Oh, Happy People

1. Oh, happy people of the living God, Oh, happy nation that His will obeys, From foes secure He maketh thine abode, With bounties great He crowneth all thy ways. How mild His reign of truth and righteousness, How excellent the counsel of His word, Oh, happy

2. Oh, country great, thine is the honor given. The watch to keep, the beacon bright to trim, The world to teach the liberty of heav'n, The nations, lost to pilot back to Him. Wave then, O ensign, in thy starry blue. Wave in thy whiteness from the morning light. Wave in thy eternal and secure, Unshaken still shall be thy blest abode, While flow thy

3. Oh, country dear, so shalt thou do His will, Whose sovereign word bids thrones and empires fall, So shalt thou rise in strength and brightness still, Glory of nations, star and guide of all. While stand Thy hills ein thy starry blue, Wave in thy whiteness from the morning light. Wave in thy eternal and secure, Unshaken still shall be thy blest abode, While flow thy
Oh, Happy People

people favored by His grace, Oh, country blest whose King is God the Lord. crimson from the sunset hue, Wave in thy glory, chasing error's night.
streets, His mercies shall endure, Oh, happy people of the living God.