

THE MARRIAGE IN THE SKIES C. M. D.

"Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth." – Rev. 19:6

S. M. Denson, 1909

Key of F Major

Mrs. Sidney Denson, wife of S. M. Denson, 1909

1. O ring the bells of heav - en high, The mar-riage feast has come, The glo-rious ju - bi - lee is nigh, The

2. The King is mus - ter - ing His guests; I see His glo-rious band; I see the shin-ing ha - bi - tants Of

3. From cloud to cloud, from dome to dome, The myr - iad ar - my cries, The mar-riage of the Lamb has come, The

4. The Bride-groom, too, me - thinks I see While myr - iad voic - es ring, Chief - est a - mong ten thou - sand, He Im -

saints are go - ing home; The might - y pen - nants of the skies Are wav - ing in the air, And o'er the gates of far - off Beu - lah land; They come, they come on wings of light, I hear the bu - gle blast, I know the reign of mar - riage in the skies; Come, bring the lin - en white and clean, The wed - ding guests pre - pare, The gar - ments gleam like man - u - el, my King, Thrice bless'd are they who hear the call, A might - y an - gel cries, Haste to the sup - per

THE MARRIAGE IN THE SKIES C. M. D.

Fine D. S. al Fine

Zi - on rise The bat - tle - ments so fair. The bat - tle - ments so fair, so fair, The bat - tle - ments so fair.
sin's dark night For - ev - er - more is past. For - ev - er - more is past, For - ev - er - more is past.
sil - very sheen, The brid - al robe so fair. The brid - al robe so fair, The brid - al robe so fair.
of the Lamb, The mar - riage in the skies. The mar - riage in the skies, The mar - riage in the skies.