The Crimson Stream

1. There is a crimson stream unseen, That flows from Calvary;

2. Though full of envy, pride and lust, From these you may be poor;

3. There are millions now in realms of light Who once were vile as sin;

4. Come to this crimson stream today, With all your guilt and sin;

A fountain of life for all mankind, Go wash our sins away.

Fine Chorus

Go wash in that beautiful stream.

D. S. al Fine
