The Love of God

1. Far beyond all human comprehension,
   Measured by an infinite dimension,
   Wonderfully broad in its intention,
   Is the boundless love of God.

2. Great enough to sacrifice with pleasure,
   And to give away its richest treasure,
   And to drink of pain in brimming measure,
   Is the wondrous love of God.

3. Greater than my sin and condemnation,
   Great enough to give me full salvation,
   And to fill my soul with jubilation,
   Is the matchless love of God.

4. Deep enough for those in degradation,
   Higher than the highest elevation,
   Broad enough to take in every nation,
   Is the boundless love of God.

(1.) Far beyond all human comprehension,
   And to give away its richest treasure,
   Wonderfully broad in its intention,
   Is the boundless love of God.

Words and Music: Haldor Lillenas

PDHymns.com
The Love of God

Chorus

Love divine, yes, love divine is

Love divine surpasses all that human tongue can tell,

(is boundless)

While on earth or in eternity;

Higher than the mountains where the broader than eternity; Higher that the vine that reaches soaring eagles dwell,

(Higher mountain)

Deeper than the mighty rolling highest mountain, Deeper than the Altos must be made very prominent. If necessary have a number of the sopranos sing the melody part with the altos.

The Love of God

me. Love

Love sufficient to redeem and

sea. (the surging sea.)

roll ing sea. (And it is) Love sufficient

God

Is shore less and as endless as eternity.

set a captive free, As shore less and as endless as eternity.

to redeem,